

DIAMONDS IN A COPPER SETTING

INCONGRUOUS—you say? Yet, two eyes, far more precious than diamonds are often supplied with inferior, poorly fitted glasses. Cheap glasses detract from the natural beauty of the eyes as would the copper setting from the diamond. For this, if for no other reason, good glasses pay.

SWATOW "DIE-HARDS" ACTIVE

SEEKING TO OBSTRUCT EARLY RESUMPTION.

KOWLOON-CANTON TRAINS.

A further sign of the improved conditions between Hongkong and Canton is to be found in the fact that as from Monday next, a through railway service will be resumed, the schedule including the running of an express train both from Canton and Kowloon.

Conditions at Swatow are fully detailed below by our correspondent there, who states that the "die-hards" in the boycott movement are working hard to hinder the resumption of normal conditions. At the time of writing, the Chinese employees of foreign firms have not returned to work.

There are practically no new developments in the general situation to be reported to-day, excepting that further shipping activity has to be recorded. The general feeling is that trade will from now onwards gradually improve between Hongkong and South China ports.

The opening up of communication with Wuchow has definitely started by the departure of the Kwong Fook Cheong, which left Hongkong for that port at five o'clock yesterday. The San Nam Hoi has cleared for Kowloon and will leave to-day at 7 p.m. The following river boats have cleared for Canton:—Fatsan, Lungshan, Sai On, and Kwong Tung.

RAILWAY SERVICE RESUMING.

Another sign of the changed conditions between Hongkong and Canton is forthcoming in the news that, as from Monday, through railway services will be resumed on the line between Kowloon and Canton.

The schedule arranged is that an express train will leave Kowloon at 8 o'clock in the mornings, reaching Canton at 12.50, whilst a slow through train will leave Kowloon at 9 a.m. daily. From Canton there will be a slow train at 8.45 a.m., and an express at 3 p.m., the latter reaching Kowloon at 7.20 p.m. This service will be maintained until further notice.

The fares will be—First-class, $7; second-class, $4; and third-class, $2.

BUSINESS HINDERED.

Business amongst Chinese merchants in Canton is still being hindered by the heavy taxation levied, and it is reported that a newly-constituted commercial group, including the Chamber of Commerce, is to meet to-day for the purpose of protesting against the re-imposition of the capital and investment taxes.

With regard to the future employment of the boycott pickets, it is stated that several hundreds of these are to be trained as propagandists and military reserves, for the purpose of being despatched to Hunan and other territory which has recently come under the control of the Canton Government.

LABOUR TROUBLES.

Reports from Canton show that labour troubles continue to be a serious menace to all industrial enterprise and to trade in general. The members of the Four Merchants' Union have therefore decided to present a joint petition to the Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang asking the Government to hasten legislation for placing the Labour Unions within the confine of laws, as promised by the authorities. There are still many disputes between employers and employees unsettled, and some of them are reaching to a climax, threatening the closure of many businesses. Unless these are quickly disposed of, the longed-for revival of trade will be greatly hampered.

As the Kuomintang is about to enter upon a period of construction, according to the party's programme, the merchants contend that Labour Union legislation should take priority over political and military questions.

It is also reported that the Stiverdors' Union has threatened to go on strike, on account of the death of one of its members whilst under detention at the Likin station in Canton. The collector of the Likin station had offered a monetary solatium to the family of the dead through the Union, but this has been refused by the Union. It is said that the Union has decided to send a large deputation to the Labour Department and demand adequate punishment of the offenders. This decision is said to have the support of the other unions.

THE SWATOW POSITION.

"Die Hards" Still Active.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Swatow, Oct. 18. Although the strike pickets have been dispersed, as promised by Canton Government, no other steps have been taken by the local authorities to counteract the activities of the various Unions, with the result that none of the strikers have as yet returned to work.

The combined Unions held a mass meeting on Saturday at the Kuomintang Office, which was addressed by the Union delegates who had returned from Canton on the previous day. Mr. Tan Kai-jin, the senior delegate, reported to the meeting that, in spite of reports to the contrary, the boycott had not been called off in Canton and that employees had not returned to British firms.

He then explained that all that had happened was that it had been decided by the Canton Government that the "blockade" of Hongkong was no longer to be enforced. This would, of course, apply equally to Swatow, but that only meant that steamers could run between Hongkong and Kwangtung ports, not that they could land British goods and not that cargo could be landed from or shipped on British steamers. After a lot more of this sort of talk, it was decided to form a new Society to continue and intensify the anti-British movement.

When the result of this meeting was made known, it came as a great disappointment to all concerned, Chinese and foreigners alike, but subsequent reports from different Unions indicate that, although the "Die Hard" faction of the strikers are doing their utmost to hinder a resumption of trade, the majority are more than anxious to return to their former employment and forget the experiences of the last sixteen months.

The Commissioner for Foreign Affairs was interviewed this morning on the subject and stated that he had not received any instructions from his Government with regard to former employees returning to British firms but that he would communicate with the Unions should he hear from any firms desirous of obtaining their staffs.

The S.S. Haining arrived here on Saturday from Hongkong, and, for the first time since the strike started, brought some 300 dock passengers. Eventually all these passengers were landed, although at first it was doubtful whether they were going to be able to do so or not. The sampans were still nervous about going alongside a British steamer and the first few demanded $2 a passenger and then would only land on the Kakchloh side. Later, however, they became braver and took out large boats and landed the majority at the Customs House at the usual rate of 20 cents a head.

DOLLAR SLUMP.

LOWEST FOR ELEVEN YEARS.

MAY DROP EVEN FURTHER.

Only one thing is really certain about the remarkable and, to the man-in-the-street, alarming slump in the sterling value of the Hongkong dollar, this morning quoted on demand at 1s. 9.11/16d.—a fall of 1 1/2d. since Saturday, and of 5d. since the beginning of August—and that is, further fluctuation cannot be influenced locally.

It may drop even further during the next fortnight, and it is significant in this connection that bar silver, ready, was quoted at 24.5/16th this morning, and bar silver, forward, at 24.1/16th.

The primary cause of the collapse is this weakness in the silver market, originating with the recommendation of the adoption of the gold standard in India. Yesterday, silver reached a new low record in New York, and if further selling continues there may be further collapse, with corresponding dropping in value of the dollar.

BETTER FOR BUSINESS.

A prominent business man, in conversation with a Telegraph representative this morning, was of opinion that the dollar had now reached its proper level, having by some agency been bolstered up for months. He regarded a low dollar as better for business generally, pointing out that exporters could take full advantage, whilst imports would be reduced, thus stimulating the sale of local products.

As to further fall, he thought it possible. The biggest buyers of silver were China and India. India wanted no more, and the price would not be likely to improve unless China bought heavily.

NO PROPHECY.

The manager of one of the biggest local banks, interviewed today and asked his opinion of the tendency, declared that he was not a prophet. The dollar's sterling value depended entirely on the state of the silver market.

A Telegraph representative also talked with exchange brokers, and one of them said that although the slump was remarkable, and might continue further, the undertone was easy. There may, after a few months, he added be a reaction in the other direction, and the dollar might recover to a figure somewhere about 1s. 11d.

The general opinion is that the dollar, unless anything entirely unforeseen happens, will be unlikely to get back to the 2s. 8d. and over, which prevailed in July.

Some people were surprised to find the dollar drop immediately on the announcement that the boycott was being called off, but this was the natural tendency on a freeing of money, and this was actually the only local influence on the dollar's sterling equivalent.

The sudden drop is causing some alarm amongst persons due for Home leave shortly, and in some cases individuals who have been holding on to dollars in the hope of a rise have been badly hit.

An instance of a man going Home on retirement was quoted to us this morning. With exactly the same figure in dollars at his command, he has lost $250 since Friday.

PAST FIGURES.

It is interesting to recall that within the past fifty years, the Hongkong dollar has fluctuated considerably in sterling value, the pinnacle being reached in 1920, when it rose to the sensational figure of 6s. 2d., and the lowest being 1s. 6 1/2d. in 1902.

Only thirteen times during the past fifty years has the dollar fallen below 1s. 10d., the last previous occasion being in 1915, when it stood at 1s. 9d., the rate in the previous year being as low as 1s. 8 1/2d.

CHINESE RUNS AMOK AT SHAUKIWAN.

ATTACKS OTHERS WITH AN AXE.

ONE MAN KILLED.

Shortly after midnight, a Chinese ran amok in the Tung On shipbuilding yard at Shaukwan West and attacked a number of foks, whilst they were asleep, with a carpenter's axe. He had fatally wounded one man and seriously injured another before he was arrested.

Mok Sang, a brother of the man, states that, awakened by the commotion, he jumped up from his bed to see the latter stooping over a foki. The foki had already received a number of cuts, fortunately not of a very serious nature, before the axe was wrested from the man.

Lying on the floor was another foki who had already been fatally injured. This man died before the arrival of the police.

WANHSIEN VICTIMS DEPENDENTS.

LOCAL FUND TO BE OPENED.

It has been decided by the local branch of the Navy League to open a fund for the dependents of those who fell in the service of their fellow-countrymen.

In addition to the officers killed there were three A.R.s, and one Landing Seaman who have each left behind them a wife or mother who were either wholly or partly dependent on them.

The Committee feel that there are many who would be willing to contribute something towards those bereaved in this affair.

Part of the proceeds from the concert on the 21st inst. will be devoted to this purpose.

All donations should be sent to Mr. A. J. Bird, c/o Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China, and will be acknowledged in the Press.

GOOD-BYE MARCH.

BY THE EAST SURREYS.

On the morning of embarkation for India (probably 27th inst.) the 1st Battalion of the East Surrey Regiment will carry out a short Route March prior to embarkation. The route will be—Murray Barracks, Post Office, Star Ferry, Hongkong Club and return to Murray Barracks.

The G. O. C. the Forces in South China, Major General C. C. Luard, C.B., C.M.G., will take the salute opposite the Cenotaph.

The date and time of parade will be notified later.

SHARE FORGERS.

BRE GANG ARRESTED IN WARSAW.

Warsaw, Oct. 19.

The police have arrested twenty men, forming the Executive of what is stated to be the largest gang of share forgers in Europe. Their forgeries, amounting to several hundred thousand pounds, have been distributed throughout Poland, Germany, Austria and France. The police have also closed down a large printing and engraving plant used by the forgers and which handled many bona fide deals.—Reuter.

MISSIONARY RELEASED

IN CAPTIVITY FOR A WEEK.

Shanghai, Oct. 19.

The British missionary evangelist named Ryding, who was captured by bandits at Chenlu, near Kaitung (Hanan) on October 5th, was, it is now learned, released on October 18th.

He together with his servants, were made captive during the course of a big bandit raid.—Reuter.

STRAITS BUDGET.

BIG SURPLUS AT END OF YEAR.

GOOD TRADE OUTLOOK.

Generally healthy conditions were referred to by H. E. Sir Laurence Guillemard, Governor of the Straits Settlements, in his annual Budget speech, from which we take the following extracts:

We commenced this year with a budget showing a deficit of over $7 millions, and we have since made considerable special provision for items which could not be foreseen when the year's budget was prepared.

It is now estimated that the revenue for the current year will amount to $36 1/2 millions so that the surplus will on the year's working be reduced by nearly $3 millions. When comparing these figures with those for 1925 it must be remembered that the revenue for that year was swollen by the receipt of $20 millions from the Currency Commissioners' surplus and the expenditure by $30 millions paid to the Opium Revenue Replacement Fund.

BIG SURPLUS.

The surplus at the end of the year is, therefore, estimated at $60 millions.

The memorandum of statistics which has been circulated shows the probable position in regard to assets and liabilities at the end of the current year, and it will be observed that of the surplus $28 millions is expected to be in liquid form. Our commitments as regards loans from that surplus will then amount to $7 1/2 millions.

So that our available cash, after providing for our loan commitments, will amount to $20 1/2 millions to meet the deficit on the budget which will be considered by the Council to-day and other foreseen calls on our funds which do not appear fully in the budget as well as unforeseen expenditures.

TWO LANDMARKS.

The opening of the new College of Medicine and the new General Hospital in Singapore are landmarks in our medical history. At the college, the facilities offered now exceed those available in some of the Home medical schools, while at the General Hospital, the number of in-patients has increased fifty per cent. since the new buildings were occupied.

These compare favourably in fittings and equipment with first class hospitals elsewhere. It is expected that all the buildings will be completed by the end of 1927. A staff adequate to the resulting enlarged hospital is being provided.

The total value of all rubber exported from British Malaya during the year ending July 31, 1926, was $891,871,000 of exports totalling $60,678 tons against $420,817,000 on 238,649 tons in the previous year, and as compared with $141,203,818 on the export of 222,996 tons for the pre-restriction year ending July 31, 1922.

SIX MONTHS' TRADE.

The total declared value of the trade of the Colony in merchandise for the first half of the year shows an increase of $295 million over that of the same period for 1925, or 27 1/2 per cent. Of this total, exports were $144 million and imports $151 million.

The total declared value of merchandise exported amounted to nearly $658 million, an increase over the same period for 1925 of $144 million or about 23 per cent. Rubber was responsible for about $97 million, rice, copra, tin, and cotton piece goods also helping to swell the total.

The quantity of rubber exported increased by over 10,000 tons or nearly 9 per cent. while the value shows over 60 per cent. advance. The total declared value of merchandise imported for the half year 1926 amounted to $706 million, being an increase of $151 million or 27 per cent. rubber, rice, motor cars, and cotton piece goods being mainly responsible.

PREMIER'S EMPIRE REVIEW.

OPENING SPEECH AT IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

IDEALS COMMON TO ALL.

At the opening session of the Imperial Conference, a most important speech has been delivered by the Premier, Mr. Stanley Baldwin.

In a comprehensive review of Empire problems, he enumerated the many ties which bind the nations of the Empire together, pointed out the necessity of a common policy on foreign affairs, dwelt on the closer contact now existing between the various parts of the Empire and the growth of a unified system of Imperial defence, and urged an extension of inter-Imperial trade.

The speech, as broadcasted by the British official wireless at Rugby, is as follows:—

Rugby, Oct. 19.

The Imperial Conference, as its first official act to-day passed unanimously a message of greeting and fidelity to Their Majesties the King and Queen and expressing the earnest hope that Their Majesties might long be spared to strengthen the ties of affection and devotion uniting the peoples of the British Commonwealth under the Crown.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin then addressed the Conference. After welcoming the members he paid tribute to the memory of two men who had made a great contribution to previous Imperial Conferences and whose deaths were deeply deplored by all, namely the late Mr. William Massey, late Premier of New Zealand, and the late Lord Curzon, late Foreign Minister. It had been suggested from time to time, he said, that little was accomplished at these Imperial gatherings. Since the first Colonial Conference was held in 1887, less than forty years had elapsed—not long in the history of a nation much less of a great Commonwealth of Nations. Yet in that time how much had been accomplished. In 1887 there was no Commonwealth of Australia and South Africa, no Irish Free State, and no full representation of India which existed to-day. Apart from defence, hardly any matters of large policy came before that first Conference which was confined to questions not indeed without importance but mainly of a secondary kind. The present Conference would extend over the whole field of Imperial and international policy and relations.

THINGS WHICH BIND.

This growth of the importance of the matters which had come before successive Conferences was the outcome of a very conspicuous and far-reaching change which had taken place during that time in the parts of the Empire. Coupled with the continuous process of the extension of self-government and the development of national consciousness, there had been the continuous necessity for adopting the relations between the Government in Great Britain and the other governments of the Empire to an altered state of affairs. It was in guiding this growth and in assisting this adoption that the value of the successive and increasingly frequent conferences had lain. Without them it was hardly conceivable that the changes of the past forty years, so far from weakening the ties which bound the Empire together, should have contributed to that fine mental unity and strength which displayed itself to the amazement and admiration of the world during the four years of war. We have gradually built up a whole network of contacts extending throughout the entire fabric of our respective national organisations, official and unofficial. This network extends from the Crown, which unites all by a common bond through the whole range of Government activities—justice, foreign policy, defence, finance, trade communications, migration, education, and so forth—and is completed by a thousand social links of race, religion, language, science, literature, drama and sport. From these we derive those common ideals, interests and mutual sympathies which bind us as a group of nations to each other.

other different in kind as well as in degree from that in which each stands towards nations outside the family.

COMMON POLICY ESSENTIAL.

Nowhere had the necessity for adjusting the relations between the Governments of the Empire been more conspicuous than in the region of the foreign policy. He recalled that at the Imperial Conference of 1911, Sir Edward Grey (now Lord Grey) for the first time made a comprehensive statement on foreign policy to the representatives of the Dominions. Lord Grey then pointed out that the creation of separate fleets and forces in the Dominions had rendered essential a common foreign policy for Empire. That problem we had already gone some way to meet. The first conspicuous demonstration of the changes which had taken place in the sphere of foreign affairs was the Imperial War Cabinet of 1917. This was followed by an Empire Delegation at the Peace Conference. At the last two Imperial Conferences not only had a common understanding been arrived at regarding the principles which should govern the main issues of foreign policy, but also agreements had been reached on the administrative side of foreign relations in matters of major importance. Reference need only be made to the part played by the Conference of 1921 in the discussion which preceded the Washington Disarmament Conference and to the work of the Conference of 1923, first on the problem of Reparations which led up to the agreements reached in 1924, and, secondly, on the question of smuggling off the United States' coast, which resulted in the conclusion of a Treaty for the regulation of the liquor traffic. Apart from the meetings of the Imperial Conference there had been a number of International Conferences since the war at which the Dominions had been represented and played an important part, in addition to the periodical meetings of the Assembly of the League of Nations where there had invariably been close and constant touch between the respective representatives.

CLOSER CONTACT.

Side by side with the increase in the opportunities for inter-change of views afforded by personal contact at such conferences had gone a continuous increase in the diffusion of information. Day by day the Prime Ministers of the Dominions were kept informed by telegram and despatch of every important development and tendency. The present Prime Minister of Australia had supplemented this system by the appointment in London of personal liaison officers in close touch with the responsible authorities in this country. A beginning had also been made on the more formal side in indicating the principles governing our national and international relationships. He would mention particularly the resolution on the signature, negotiation and ratification of the Treaties which was agreed to at the Imperial Conference of 1922 and which had since been accepted by all the Governments represented here. It might well be that this resolution, in the light of experience, now needed clarification and amplification in certain ways. But

THEOSOPHY

"THE POWER AND USE OF THOUGHT"

will be the subject of this week's public lecture of the Hongkong Lodge the Theosophical Society, 7, Duddell Street, on Thursday, October 21st, at 6 p.m. The meeting is open to the Public.

THE IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

BIG RESULTS EXPECTED.

Rugby, October 19.
The Imperial Conference, which opened this morning, is the ninth
of the series, which began in 1907
when the Colonial Conferences, which had done service for twenty years, were superseded by a more authoritative body representing the self-governing Dominions,
India, and the Colonies.

General expectation will be falsified if the present Conference
does not register results of greater importance to the Empire as a whole than any of its predecessors.
The circumstances in which the Conference has assembled certainly give it great authority, for practically all of the Prime Ministers participating command majorities
in their legislatures, which removes the danger of an immediate political reverse and enables them
to claim to represent the bulk of popular opinion in their own countries.

The major issues that it is assumed will be discussed at the Conference have been fully debated within and without the parliaments of various parts of the British Commonwealth. None of these questions is directly raised in the skeleton agenda of the Conference that has been provisionally prepared, but on the statements of British Ministers which will be delivered before the Conference opportunity will arise for the examination of inter-imperial matters such as determination of Dominion status, Empire defence
and communications, as well as for consideration of means to secure a closer consultation with the Dominions in regard to external affairs.

Since the last Imperial Conference some important advances towards increased independence of the Dominions have been made.
By the terms of the Locarno
Treaty the Dominions, unless they ratify it, are expressly relieved of any burdens it may impose on Britain as one of its signatories.
In conformity with the resolution of the 1923 Conference, Canada
has concluded a local agreement
over fisheries with the United States.

With the complete concurrence
of all concerned, Canada and the Irish Free State have nominated Ministers to Washington, and Australia has attempted to secure closer co-operation in British foreign policy by establishing in London an officer with direct access to the Government for political and diplomatic purposes.

Press Comments.

The Times says, "There is no serious difference of opinion about the theory of Dominion status implied in these recent developments.
What is important now is that the conference should review them
with care, and endeavour to answer questions which they raise. Is it possible so to shape our diplomatic arrangements that there is a clear distinction between questions of purely local interest and those which may affect us all? Can we agree that there are certain spheres in which one partner must take the lead—and in particular
of course that of Great Britain,
which, as part of Europe, must bear
the brunt of European diplomacy?
Do we in fact, and in all cases,
maintain as effective channels of communication between ourselves
as experience has provided between friendly foreign states? If questions like these are faced and answered frankly, the Conference will render far greater service than

by any more academic talk of equal status."

The Manchester Guardian remarks that facts such as those mentioned above puzzle the student of normal international relationships, but to peoples of the Mother Country and of the Dominions they present little or no difficulty. "If Britain
is to conduct, as she must,
the foreign affairs of the Empire
with the expectation of Dominion approval, she ought for her own sake to leave nothing undone to secure that they shall have constant and accurate knowledge of the considerations on which she is acting, and that she for her part shall have a clear insight into their attitude. Whether this can best be achieved by the creation of a permanent secretariat
for the Conference or by accrediting from the Dominions diplomatic representatives to this country,
or by both, and perhaps by further methods, is for the Conference to decide. But the time is ripe for an advance."

Memorial Unveiled.

As a prelude to the opening of the Imperial Conference in the Cabinet Room at Downing Street,
all the Premiers of Great Britain
and the Dominions, with the President of the Executive Council of the Irish Free State, and many British and Imperial Cabinet
Ministers, attended service in Westminster Abbey, where the Prince of Wales unveiled a tablet dedicated to the memory of one million dead of the British Empire who gave their lives in the great War.—

Public Interest.

London, Oct. 19.
The Imperial Conference opened at No. 10, Downing Street, this morning.

Public interest was shown by the large crowd in the street.

The proceedings were formal.
Mr. Baldwin officially welcomed the delegates of each Dominion, and the Prime Ministers briefly replied in a loyal message addressed to the King, after which the Conference settled down to arrange an agenda for future meetings.—

NOTICE.

THE BANK OF CANTON, LIMITED.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an Extraordinary General Meeting of THE BANK OF CANTON, LIMITED, will be held at the Registered Office of the Company, No. 6, Des Vaux Road, Central, Victoria, in the Colony of Hongkong, on the 23rd day of October, 1926, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of considering, and if thought fit, passing, as Extraordinary Resolutions, the subjoined Resolutions:—

1. "That the nominal sterling capital of the Company as existing at the date when this Resolution is confirmed, as a special Resolution be converted into Hongkong currency at such rate of Exchange as may be determined by the Board, and that such capital so converted be increased beyond the Hongkong equivalent of such sterling capital when such conversion takes place to the sum of $11,000,000, Hongkong currency, divided into 275,000 shares of $40 each."

2. "That each of the issued sterling shares of the Company of the nominal value of $5 each, upon each of which the sum of $5 has been paid, be converted into one share of the nominal value of $40 Hongkong currency, at such rates of Exchange as may be resolved upon and determined by the Board, and accordingly that 216,805 shares out of the 275,000 shares of the nominal value of $40 each, constituting the capital of the Company so converted and increased may be distributed by the Board to the persons who are registered as shareholders of the Company at the date when this Resolution is confirmed as a Special Resolution in exchange for the sterling shares then held by them."

3. That the Articles of Association be altered by deleting Article 184 and substituting therefor the following article:—

184. "A dividend, instalment of dividend, or interest payable in cash by the Company to a shareholder in respect of a share, may be paid by 'posting a cheque, order or warrant for the amount in a cover directed to the shareholder at his registered address, or by 'payment of a cheque or 'granting of an order or 'warrant on production of the dividend book issued 'by the Company in respect of such share. Every 'such warrant shall be 'made payable at the Company's Head Office or 'other appointed place of 'payment. The Company 'shall be discharged from 'liability for the sum expressed in any warrant by 'payment according to any 'order for payment or endorsement thereon, purporting to be made by the 'payee therein, named, or 'by any other person on his behalf, and no person 'shall be entitled to payment of any dividend, instalment or interest for 'which a warrant shall 'have been so posted, or 'for which payment shall 'have been made by a 'cheque or the granting of 'an order or warrant on 'production of the dividend 'book as aforesaid, except 'upon presentation of the 'warrant."

AND NOTICE IS HEREBY given that should the above Resolutions be passed by the requisite majority, they will be submitted for confirmation as Special Resolutions at an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Company to be held on the 10th day of November, 1926, at the same time and place.

EDUCATION.

The provision of adequate accommodation for pupils in English schools continues. In Singapore the new Raffles Girls' School is in course of construction and as soon as it is completed early next year the present girls' school building will be given over to the Raffles Boys' School.

The new Elementary Boys' School at Teluk Kurau for 480 boys will be opened in September of this year. At Radin Mas, a building has been purchased, and is being converted into a temporary school as soon as possible, pending the construction of a new school on that site.

Tenders have been requested for the preliminary work in connection with a new school for 480 boys at Pasir Panjang. In Penang, the new Free School is in course of construction. Pending its completion, accommodation is provided for the increasing demand for an English education in a temporary Government School opened in January of this year.

MOTOR FATALITY.

DRIVER ON REMAND.

The fatal accident which occurred in Nathan Road, last Monday week, when an elderly Chinese woman was knocked down by a motor lorry belonging to the Sanitary Department, was again recalled at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon when the driver appeared on remand before Mr. J.H.B. Nihil on a charge of manslaughter.

Sub-Inspector Nicol, who prosecuted on behalf of the Police applied for an adjournment sine die. In granting the application, his Worship said that an enquiry would be held with a jury to ascertain the circumstances of the woman's death.

Replying to the defendant's his Worship said that at the previous hearing he had asked for $500, to consist of $200 in cash and two securities of $150 each, but he was willing to reduce that sum to $300 to be made up of $100 cash and two securities of $100 each.

The defendant intimated that he had only worked for the Sanitary Department for three months and was unable to procure the necessary money.

His Worship pointed out that the enquiry would take some time and if the defendant was unable to produce the money he would have to remain in gaol.

The defendant not being able to find the bail, his Worship formally remanded him for one week, a Magistrate not being able to remand a prisoner for more than a week. The defendant will therefore appear before the Magistrate every week to be formally remanded until the promulgation of the jury's verdict in the death enquiry.

OBITUARY.

A FAMOUS JAPANESE DIPLOMAT.

Tokyo, Oct. 19.
Baron Eki Hiki died this afternoon.—Reuter.

Eki Hiki, a member of the Japanese House of Peers, was only last year prominently before the public as Japan's delegate to the Chinese Customs Tariff Conference at Peking. Born in 1863, he was educated in Law at the Imperial Tokyo University.

He became an attaché at New York in 1889, and was Secretary at the Washington Embassy two years later. Afterwards he served in a similar capacity in Petrograd, Seoul, Peking, again in Washington, and then Berlin. Promoted, he was Minister to Chile from 1908 to 1914, and to China from 1914 to 1916; and from 1918 to 1920 held that appointment in Sweden, Norway, and then Denmark. He was made Ambassador to Germany in 1920, serving until 1924, when he returned East to attend the Tariff Conference.

THE PICKET CASE.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN.

"They are the victims of other men's avariciousness" commented Mr. D. McCallum at the Central Magistracy yesterday in the case in which two men, alleged by the prosecution to be strike pickets, are charged with being in possession of stolen vegetables in Hongkong.

A junk, loaded with taros, was attacked by pickets in Chinese territory, the boat and cargo being stolen. The prosecution alleged that the vegetables were brought down to Hongkong by the pickets.

Chief Inspector Murphy intimated yesterday that he had been living in hopes of getting witnesses down from the country who saw the cargo transferred from one boat to another. There was now no immediate prospect of the police being able to bring these witnesses to Court and the only course open to him was to withdraw the charge.

Mr. McCallum said the two men had been in custody for almost a month, and so far as they were concerned they were victims of other men's avariciousness and had had false charges preferred against them. They should leave the Court without a stain on their character.

Major Wilson discharged both defendants.

HARBOUR MATTERS.

Questions relating to our Harbour will, we should imagine, be amongst the subjects to be dealt with at the forthcoming debate on the Colony's Budget. And in this connection we expect to see some reference made to the re-absorption of the Port Development Department by the P.W.D. This is a matter on which there has been a distinct change of policy on the part of the Government, for the reversion to the old status does not appear to be a temporary arrangement, but more in the nature of a permanent change. We were, in fact, told that His Excellency the Governor considers that port development works in this Colony are so closely interconnected with works falling under the P.W.D. as to make it necessary, in the interests of efficiency, to bring them under the same control. There may be good grounds for the holding of this opinion, but it should be remarked that the view is rather contrary to the policy put forward in 1924, when it was stated that the idea in creating a separate Port Development Department was to relieve the Director of Public Works of some part of the heavy work with which he was called upon to deal. Moreover, it was then strongly urged that the Port Engineer should supervise all construction work within harbour limits, such as docks, wharves and reclamations. At the time, the scheme met with general approval, yet almost before the Department had begun seriously to function, it is again placed under P.W.D. control, the post of Port Engineer is abolished and other posts in connection therewith have been similarly dealt with. To the lay mind, all this chopping and changing is bewildering, and we do feel that some explanation of the latest decision should be forthcoming.

It is, we presume, not intended for the present to proceed with any part of the big harbour development scheme which was outlined by Sir Maurice Fitzmaurice some few years back, but the time will surely come when this question will have to be faced. If Hongkong is to hold its position as one of the greatest ports in the world, in any event it does appear somewhat inexplicable that a huge sum of money should be spent on getting expert advice in regard to harbour development, that a separate Port Development Department should then be set up, and that within a very brief period of time that Department, as a separate entity, should be swept out of existence and nothing more heard of the development scheme. Financial stringency may in part account for these happenings, but there appears to be more than that in it. A radical change of policy, amounting to a reversion to the status quo, seems to have been resolved upon. The point which needs keeping constantly in mind, in our opinion, is that we cannot afford to ignore the necessity of keeping the port thoroughly up-to-date. Even in the Budget speech there was reference made to the prospects of bigger business in the days ahead, and if we are to cope with that business it seems to us that we must see to it that harbour development keeps pace with the increased shipping. We are hoping, therefore, that this change of policy does not imply any abandonment of the port development scheme. The need of our splendid harbour being efficiently administered was stressed in the Budget speech, in a plea for a big extension of the staff of the Harbour Department, but it seems to us equally important that we should keep the larger issues well in mind.

The Cotton Outlook.

There is the old story of under-consumption and over-production behind the action of the cotton growers' representatives who yesterday called on President Coolidge and outlined to him their plans to withdraw four million bales of cotton from the market, in order that reasonable prices may be maintained. The position of the cotton growers to-day is comparable to the position of the rubber producers of a few years ago when the Stevenson Restriction Act was passed in order to save the price of rubber from falling to a perfectly ruinous level, but we hope that British manufacturers of cotton goods who depend on the American supply for their raw materials will not set up a shriek against the action of the American producers as did the American manufacturers of rubber goods when restriction came into effect in Malaya. More cotton has been grown than has been consumed, owing principally to under-consumption consequent on the lessened purchasing power of consuming countries, and also to the increased production which was the result of the boom in the first two post-war years. Similarly, there has been an over-production of cotton manufactured goods, the textile industries of most countries having spent one of the leanest years on record. Lancashire has been curtailing output for months past in the hope of "catching up" but there has, concurrently, been increased manufacturing in South American countries and this has helped to keep the ratio one-sided. What is most urgently needed is a return to international confidence and an appreciation in the purchasing value of the currencies of the world's smaller nations. The political outlook to-day (except perhaps in China) is brighter than it has been for many months and, with a little organisation, such as regulating market supplies and the like, the world's industry generally should take an upward move. International cartels will most assuredly be the next direction in which agriculture and industry will develop for their own protection.

MERCHANT'S ESTATE.

A SERIOUS CHARGE WITHDRAWN.

There came before Major C. Willson, at the Central Magistracy this morning, an application for the withdrawal of a charge against a Chinese of wilfully withholding from the Commissioner of Estate Duties particulars of certain property in the declaration of the estate of the late Chan Kik-to, a merchant.

In supporting the application, which was made by Mr. F. H. Loseby, of Messrs. Lee and Russ, the Crown Solicitor (Mr. H. K. Holmes) said that his Worship would agree to it when he had heard the explanation given.

The facts were that defendant and his elder brother were executors under the will of their deceased father, Chan Sik-to, who, according to the books of the Company, had invested in the Yick Cheong Hong (A. Kwai and Co.) shares to the extent of $10,000. The accounts of the deceased filed with the Estate Duties Commissioner, made no reference to this property, but Mr. Loseby, at the earliest possible moment had brought to him documents which showed that the $10,000 had in fact been provided by one Ho Shi. Mr. Holmes added that the documents were of such a nature that whilst it was by no means certain whether the $10,000 should have been included in the accounts declared to the Commissioner, it was quite clear that the defendant could not be successfully charged

SINGAPORE BASE.

PREMIER'S TRIBUTE TO MALAYA.

London, Oct. 19. At the Imperial Conference, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, in the course of his opening speech, and referring to Imperial defence, paid tribute to "the generous, patriotic and far-sighted" action of the Malay States in offering a contribution of $2,000,000 to the Imperial Government towards the cost of the Singapore base. He said that the contribution was of the greatest assistance in enabling this important development to be proceeded with.—Reuter.

with wilfully making a false declaration. Mr. Loseby, for the defence, said that if the case had proceeded further he would have called evidence in support of Mr. Holmes' statement, so far as it was in favour of the defendant. The facts were that the $10,000 was to the knowledge of the defendant provided by his cousin, Ho Shi. The case was such that in point of law, there might possibly be a question whether, legally, the share in the concern belonged to deceased or to Ho Shi. But the fact remained that the defendant had very probably excluded from the estate accounts this item which he believed and knew to be the property of Ho Shi. Under the circumstances, Mr. Loseby asked that his client should be discharged from this very serious charge. The case was withdrawn and the defendant was discharged.

The Very Idea!

The cabin in the Vande, whence Georges Clemenceau delivered his debt indictment of America, cost its venerable possessor less than a hundred pounds to build.

Here "The Tiger" lives for half the year, tended by his valet Albert, who saved his life in the trenches. The daily living expenses of "Father Victory" amount to 20 francs plus the cost of running a car which a famous millionaire presented to him after the peace conference.

Clemenceau whose love for the Orient is well known, always flies a big red fish, which blows out in the wind from the masthead of his cabin. This is a Japanese sign of virility and was presented to him by the wife of the Japanese prime minister in 1921.

Tourist: "How much are your rooms?"
Clerk: "First floor, $10 a day; second floor, $8; third floor, $6."
Tourist: "Sorry, your hotel is not high enough to suit me."

No country likes to have its paper money at a fluctuating discount. The Argentine Government faced the situation. Its money was at a discount but it could stop the fluctuation.

It simply announced that it couldn't redeem paper pesos at 100 centavos per peso but it could redeem them at 44 and it would. It had that much gold, and it did.

It caused a terrible outcry at the time, but today the Argentine Republic has one of the soundest currencies in the world, with as safe a gold reserve at 44 gold centavos to the paper peso as the United States.

That's drastic stabilization, anyhow.

Archaeologists dig with the most painstaking care for fragmentary bits of light on the life men lived in the world's far yesterday.

The history of centuries ago is written in paragraphs; yes, in sentences and mere hieroglyphic phrases, if you go back far enough.

What a contrast with the history of to-day. Count the newspapers and magazines which are recording it, and your figures will run into the thousands. Count the bound volumes of historical importance, and they run into the tens of thousands.

There still will be left to enumerate the phonograph records, the great stores of public documents, the archives of public organizations, the exhibits gathered in museums.

What a tremendous historical heritage in bulk, at least for necessary generations yet to come. Will posterity cherish this heritage, or will it be lost through sentimentality or through whatever educational value it possesses?

Or will posterity incline more and more to the purported view of a distinguished citizen of to-day that all history is "bunk?"

The world's original piano, invented in 1726 by Bartholomeo Cristofori, an Italian, was bought once for a cask of wine and for more than half a century was lost, its value unknown to its owners, according to a Chicago piano manufacturer. The famous old instrument was built in Sienna for Ferdinando de' Medici. Dr. Fabio Micheli, a Florentine physician, bought it at a sale in 1820 for a cask of wine. It was purchased later by Crosby Brown and presented to the Metropolitan Museum in New York.

"Be mine—I love you!" ardently whispered the aged millionaire to the penniless young widow.
"Enough to die for me?" she asked, coyly.

Now, don't you really love the man who drives a little car, and never seems to know or care where other autos are? He turns a sudden corner, scaring other folk to death. I'd like to catch this man who always makes me catch my breath.

No doubt you've met the fellow who will stand and talk all day. He's always glad to meet you, and he has a heap to say. You stand and listen, patiently, and let him have his fling, and when he gets through talking—well, he hasn't said a thing.

I wonder if you've ever heard of Mrs. Such-and-Such. Why, she's the one who always calls, and gets herself in dutch. It isn't that she simply calls; she's never quite discreet. Her visits always happen when you're sitting down to eat. It takes a lot of funny folk to make the world, they say. Well, surely I believe it, 'cause I meet them every day. And when each day is over, there is one main thought it leaves: A lot of funny people are why we all have pot peeves.

KUOMINTANG PARTY CONGRESS.

THREE DECISIONS, ALREADY REACHED.

NO CHANGE OF SEAT.

Canton, Oct. 19. An Extraordinary Kuomintang Congress, opened on October 15. There are attending it members of the Central Executive Committee and delegates of nearly all the Provincial Kuomintang Committees of China, as well as from Kuomintang organisations abroad. In view of the extension of the territory of the Nationalist Government from Kwangtung and Kwangsi to Hunan, Hubei, Kiangsi, Fukien and Chekiang, this Congress is of particular importance.

The principal objects of the Congress are: Firstly.—To determine the policy of the party and the Nationalist Government vis-a-vis districts and Provincial Governments and the basis for the convocation of the National Assembly.

Secondly.—To determine the seat of the Nationalist Government and the relation between it and Provincial Governments.

Thirdly.—To strengthen the unity of all revolutionary forces in the party and likewise to strengthen the union of Merchants, Workers, Peasants, Teachers, Students, Liberal Professions and Soldiers as the foundation of the national revolutionary movements.

Fourthly.—In consequence of the rapid and sweeping victory over militarism, many problems of local and national importance are to be solved.

The following three important decisions have already been adopted:

The first is, the strengthening of the national revolution in places in each province through the convocation of districts and a Provincial Assembly, and the organization of the committee system of Government. Particular attention will be paid to district administration.

The second is, that the seat of the Nationalist Government for the time being shall remain in Kwangtung.

The third, a resolution requesting the Chairman of the Political Council of the party and Nationalist Government, Mr. Wang Ching-wei, to resume his duties, which were interrupted by illness, was unanimously voted, thus showing a closer unity of the revolutionary forces, both civil and military. "SENSITIVE" HONGKONG?

MR. SOMERSET MAUGHAM'S RE.

In "The Casuarina Tree," Mr. W. Somerset Maugham, the well-known novelist, has produced a book of short stories of life in Malaya and Borneo, and he is at great pains to assure his readers that his characters are imaginary. "Singapore, he says, is a city too busy with its own concerns to bother itself with trifles, but some of the smaller communities in the countries washed by the China Sea are very sensitive, and their members are much agitated if, in a work of fiction, a hint is given that the circumstances of their lives are not always such as would meet the approval of the suburban circles in which contentedly dwell their cousins and their aunts. Being practical people concerned for the most part with practical affairs, they give the writer credit for little imagination, and knowing he has been in this or that place and made the acquaintance of this or that person, jump to the conclusion that in the characters of his invention he has done no more than draw portraits of themselves."

Mr. Maugham protests vehemently, and we must accept his assurances. It must then be sure coincidence that in one of his stories he recalls strikingly the incidents of a certain sensational murder case which occurred in the P.M.S. a dozen years ago.—Straits Times.

The Board of the Hongkong and Shanghai Hotels, Ltd., have appointed Mr. Percy H. Suckling General Manager of the Company in Hongkong, and Mr. R. Weeding Skinner, the Shanghai Manager, and Mr. V. W. G. Smith, the local Secretary of Shanghai. The appointments take effect from last Saturday.

TRADE FREEDOM.

PLEA BY BIG BANKERS.

London, Oct. 19. An important plea for the removal of restrictions on European trade has been drawn up by a large number of representative bankers and businessmen of Europe and the United States. The manifesto dwells on the interference with international trade by tariffs, special licences and prohibitions since the war, and urges the establishment of economic freedom as the best hope of restoring commerce and credit in the world.

The signatories include Dr. Schacht (President of the Reichsbank), Sir Arthur Balfour, Lord Bradbury, Mr. F. C. Goodenough, Lord Inchcape, Mr. Reginald McKenna, Mr. Montagu Norman and Mr. J. P. Morgan.—Reuter.

GERMAN APPROVAL.

Berlin, Oct. 19.

Some stocks on the Stock-Exchange rose 13 per cent. on the publication of the international industrialists' and bankers manifesto.

The papers generally regard it as an admission of the recognition that the economic clauses of the Versailles Treaty are mainly responsible for the sorry state of world trade.

The manifesto is endorsed in German industrial circles.—Reuter.

STOLEN WRIST-WATCH.

THREE CHINESE SENTENCED.

A marine hawker, charged before Mr. R. E. Lindsell at the Central Magistracy to-day with receiving a wrist watch which was stolen from Miss R. Elarte, of No. 5, Blue Buildings, expressed himself as being awed when he was given a first look of the valuable article.

It looked so grand, the hawker said, that he was doubtful of the transaction, and he would not accept it from a man who took it to his shop. Before he had a chance to explain his objection, the man had run away. Shortly afterwards the police arrived and arrested him.

Detective Sergeant McTernan also charged another man with receiving the watch from his wife, who was employed as an amah by Miss Elarte. The woman was charged with the actual larceny.

All three defendants were convicted. The man and his wife were sentenced to four weeks' hard labour, while the marine hawker was fined $100, with the alternative of six weeks' hard labour.

FOR SON'S WEDDING.

DUTY NOT PAID ON WINE.

Charges of possession of one bottle of brandy and eight jars of Chinese wine on which the duty had not been paid were brought against the master of a passenger boat, before Mr. J. H. B. Nihill at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

The defendant stated that he purchased the alcohol for his son's marriage and was not aware that the duty had not been paid.

On the charge concerning the bottle of brandy, a fine of $10, or 14 days' hard labour, was imposed, while a fine of $100, with the alternative of two months' hard labour, was imposed in respect of the eight jars of wine.

AGAINST PROHIBITION.

RESULT OF NORWEGIAN PLEBISCITE.

Oslo, Oct. 19.

All the present indications are that the anti-prohibitionists have secured a large majority throughout the country in the plebiscite on prohibition.

The Oslo figures are 103,311 for the abolition of prohibition and 16,419 against.

The Premier foreshadows a Bill at the earliest possible moment to abolish prohibition.—Reuter.

COAL STRIKE.

MORE MINERS AT WORK.

London, Oct. 19.

The official figures show that 14,476 more miners are working to-day than yesterday, the total now at work being 238,000.—Reuter.

STEAMER RAMMED AT ILOILO.

SERIOUS DAMAGE TO THE "CROSS KEYS."

WHILST AT ANCHOR.

The Cross Keys, an American Oriental Mail Line freighter, was rammed while at anchor in Iloilo Harbour last Wednesday night by the s.s. Consuelo, according to a cable received by the Manila agents from the master of the vessel.

The ship recently left Manila after loading 100 tons of copra meal there. It also had a cargo of flour from Puget Sound, ports. This cargo was shifted to between decks when it was found that the ship was making water moderately.

A later cable received by the Admiral Oriental Line, local agents, gave details of the damage. According to it, the Consuelo stern struck fair on the end of the bulkhead, between holds two and three.

The bulkhead and frames in the way of the import were badly buckled; the plating from the main deck down sustained a dent 34 feet long and one foot deep, and the lower plate was fractured; also there is a hole at the main deck. Three deck plates and the side of the deck-house were buckled and the superstructure work of the boat and bridge deck was damaged. The cargo damage was slight.

Temporary repairs are being made with the crew. The master of the vessel is confident that he can make the vessel seaworthy to proceed to Cebu and discharge all outward cargo. It will then call at Manila.

CELEBRATIONS AT LIMCHOW.

HOW NATIONAL HOLIDAY WAS OBSERVED.

The Telegraph correspondent, writing from Limchow-fu, states that October 10th was marked by two processions, in which about 4,000 took part. With bands and flags, uniformed boys and girls students from Leng Shaw, Shek-hong, Tsing Kong Haw, Tang Uk and Pakhoi, as well as from the many schools of this large educational centre, marched through the streets in orderly double file. The Boy Scouts were well represented and some hundreds of village men and youths in their large straw hats swelled the numbers. Several battalions of soldiers also marched four abreast in full equipment, having bright paper flags attached to their bayonets.

During the evening, the procession paraded again and many carried lanterns—some were really beautiful ones, whilst others representing weird animals, fish and birds, were greeted with shouts from the watching crowds.

No Christians or students from schools connected with foreigners were permitted to take part in the processions, or join in the sports held on October 11th outside the East Gate of the city. This was by order of the local students, who insisted upon this restriction, in spite of invitations having been previously issued by the city officials to such schools to join in both the cost and pleasures of the occasion.

Dollar "President" liners are the first in history to maintain "timetable" schedule for world-wide ocean traffic, comparable to railway schedules ashore. This dependable service enables you to perfect definite travel plans, to count surely on making rail and steamship connections.

Dollar liners in trans-Pacific service offer two sailings each month, reaching San Francisco via Shanghai, Kobe, Yokohama and Honolulu. Dollar liners afford four sailings each month to Manila; thence to Singapore and beyond, round-the-world, on fortnightly schedule.

All-outriggers are big factors in Dollar Line popularity. Salutes de luxe are such as you would expect on ships that maintain the famous Dollar Line cuisine. Decks and social halls are spacious. You will enjoy travel on these clean, well-lit liners.

ANOTHER ERUPTION

REPORTED.

Tokyo, Oct. 19.
Early this morning the Tarumaya volcano in Hokkaido erupted, throwing up vast columns of black smoke to a great height, and scattering quantities of ashes miles around, including the towns of Tomakomai and Horobetsu, where the ashes lie six inches deep.

Several minor eruptions and also quakes followed, but no casualties are reported.—Reuter.

HEAVY BOOKINGS.

YESTERDAY'S PASSENGERS
BY THE EMPRESS.

It was anticipated that the Empress of Canada would arrive before noon yesterday, but it was nearly 1 p.m. before she was finally secured alongside No. 5 pier.

She arrived with a fair amount of cargo and a heavy passenger list, of whom 724 were disembarking at Hongkong, with 54 through bookings for Manila. The Hongkong numbers were made up of 96 first class, 78 second class, 84 third class, and 616 steerage, of whom 29 were Indians and 487 Chinese.

A number of notables returned to the Colony in this vessel, among whom were Sir H. and Lady Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Cameron, Captain W. W. Hipkin, Mr. and Mrs. R. Humphrey, Mr. F. H. Crapnell, Mr. C. G. Melchers, Captain E. W. Morris, Mr. N. R. Ramsey, Mr. D. Ruttonjee, Major, Mrs. H. K. and Miss J. A. Rowntree, and Mr. L. Dunbar.

Another interesting passenger is Mrs. Helen Church Candee, accompanied by her private illustrator, Mrs. Candee has written the only English work existing on the ruins of Angkor, and is now in search of material for further books.

A Record.

The Empress of Canada broke the record previously held by the Empress of Asia in the matter of passengers, for when she cleared Vancouver there were no less than 1,128 on board, made up of 265 first, 145 second, 68 third and 650 steerage.

Additions to the steerage were made en route but included in the 650 were 115 Chinese who formed the crew of the Empress of Australia on her recent trip to be re-embarked in the United Kingdom after breaking down in Japanese waters. The men are being paid off here.

The freight consignments to the Orient were also exceptionally heavy, amounting in all to 3,600 tons of general cargo, principally composed of lead, canned salmon, tobacco, shingles, flour and general consignments. There was a large quantity of cotton on board from the southern states consigned to Japanese mills and in addition the entire refrigerator space of the liner was booked up.

MINERS' FUNDS.

MORE RUSSIAN MONEY.

Mostow, Oct. 19.

The Central Council of Soviet Trade Unions has transferred another half a million rubles to the British Miners Federation for the relief of the miners. The amount represents deductions of one per cent on the monthly wages.—Reuter.

PREMIER'S EMPIRE
REVIEW.

its usefulness had been amply demonstrated within the last three years.

IMPERIAL DEFENCE.

In the field of Imperial defence
there had been steady if unop-timate progress towards improving the facilities for co-operation, if necessity should unhappily arise.
The long drawn-out controversy of the early part of the century between the advocates of Dominion
navies and Dominion contributions to a single Imperial navy, had long since died away in the natural and inevitable course of constitutional development. The principal of Dominion navies was established and was not merely accepted but was wholeheartedly endorsed by the Admiralty. He warmly welcomed the step recently taken by India in establishing the Royal Indian Navy. At the end of this year we should be entering upon a Conference with the representatives of the Irish Free States with a view to the undertaking by the Free State of a share in her own coastal defence. A regular system for the interchange of British and Australian cruisers was now in operation. Our navies, on which we depended in the last resort for our corporate existence,
remained one of the strongest possible bonds that united us. In land forces also, much had been done to facilitate co-operation, and formations throughout the Empire were organised, in general, on similar lines. The human bond was created by the system of an interchange of officers and by personal visits of officers to and from the Dominions. In the air arm, whose actual and potential importance as a link between the Motherland and the Dominions,
not only from the point of view of Imperial defence but also from that of Imperial communications,
had been strikingly demonstrated
by recent long distance flights,
contact and co-operation are being
secured by corresponding methods.

INTER-EMPIRE TRADE.

The third and not the least important head under which the work of the Imperial Conference might be classified, was that of Empire trade and Empire settlement. Substantial results had followed from the preference recorded in the Dominions to Empire
goods, and he was confident that the measure of preference which we in this country had been able to afford, even under our very limited
tariff system, supplemented as it would be in the future by the operations of the newly established Empire Marketing Boards, had increased and would increase the flow of inter-Imperial trade.

The Premier added that perhaps the most important question which would arise at the present Conference in regard to foreign affairs
was the admitted necessity for an improvement in the present system
of communication and consultation
between the Governments of the Empire. In the sphere of defence
there were matters which required careful joint consideration. In regard to Empire trade and settlement
he hoped that each of the Governments represented would give subject to the economic needs of the countries which they represented,
the most sympathetic consideration

MORE OBSTRUCTION.

Swatow, Oct. 19.
News of the true position of affairs at Canton is slowly filtering through, and strikers are gradually intimating to their former employers that they expect to return to work in the near future. Behind the scenes, however, the leaders of the strike and boycott movement, and therefore those who are not likely to be re-employed,
are working hard to frustrate any attempt on the part of their members to return. At a meeting of the Servants' Union, a statement was read out to the effect that the Government advised all strikers to apply for re-employment and promised those who were not reemployed a grant of $10 per month for 10 months. At first this appeared to clear the atmosphere
considerably, but later it was realised that this offer was not sufficient to persuade the leaders to release their hold, and apparently they were able to influence the officials, inasmuch as the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs then informed the British firms that if they required their staffs they, the firms, must first furnish him with a complete list of those they wish to re-employ.

It is obvious, of course, that this is merely preliminary to a demand for recognition of the Unions and the re-employment of all or none.

NEW RULES.

The latest news we have is that the Foreign Employees' Union has circulated an urgent notice to the effect that in view of the change in method of conducting the boycott
and blockade, new rules and regulations must be formulated.
This will take some two or three days and in the meantime no members are to return to their former employment.

DEMPSEY-TUNNEY
FIGHT.PAGE OF PICTURES
TO-MORROW.

In less than a month from the date on which the fight took place,
a full page of pictures taken at the historic Dempsey-Tunney fight
at New York on September 23rd,
will appear in to-morrow's Telegraph.

We have received by the Empress of Canada, which came into port yesterday, a special parcel of pictures and these are being made ready for printing to-day and will appear to-morrow. The interesting fact about the pictures is that they were telephoned across the American continent, from New York to San Francisco, by the new telephoto method, yet are surprisingly clear and distinct.
This, saying of train time enabled
the trans-Pacific mail to be caught.

To-morrow's sitting of the Conference will be devoted to a frank survey by Sir Austen Chamberlain
of the whole field of foreign policy and relationships. His speech will not be published.—British Wireless.

EMPLOYER SUED.

INDIAN BUSINESS MEN'S DISPUTE.

In the Summary Court this morning, before Mr. Justice Wood, a claim and counter-claim between two Indian traders were heard.
G. H. Kikaboy, trading as the Saffee Store, sued his former employer, H.M.H. Esmail, general broker, for $376.70, being the balance due for wages, board and lodging at an agreed price.
Esmail counter-claimed for $374.48, of which $315.73 was alleged to have been received by Kikaboy on behalf of the plaintiff, the balance of $58.75 being the value of goods received by Kikaboy as manager of Esmail's business, of which he had failed to give an account.

Mr. H. J. Armstrong appeared for Kikaboy, and Mr. L. D. Turner
for Esmail. The claims were taken together.

Mr. Armstrong said the relations between the two parties started as far back as February, 1915, when Esmail entered into an agreement with Kikaboy to serve him for one year for 200 rupees per annum.
At the expiration of that year, he was engaged again for two further separate years. In 1918, he was approached by Esmail to continue in the business and said Kikaboy
could marry his adopted daughter. Kikaboy signed an agreement, which was not now in existence, on December 4th, 1918,
for fifteen years' service at a salary of 200 rupees per annum,
with $20 per month for pocket
expenses, board and lodgings, and medical fees.

ALLOWANCE INCREASED.

This continued until the end of 1920, when, as the result of a disagreement, Esmail requested Kikaboy to leave the room which he occupied in the shop and get accommodation elsewhere. It was then agreed that Kikaboy should receive $50 per month, to include pocket money and board and lodgings. This amount was further increased several times owing to the increased cost of living, and
because Kikaboy, who married,
had children. In February, 1926,
when Kikaboy had five children,
his allowance was $100 per month.

On or about March 23rd, Esmail dismissed Kikaboy without notice, and alleged that $315.73
was owing to him on the books.
No salary was credited to Kikaboy in the books, but he was authorised to draw out amounts from time to time on account of salary. He had drawn out money in that manner, and the sum $376
was now due to him.

DELIBERATE CONFUSION.

Mr. Turner alleged there had been a deliberate confusion in the books, which were kept and written by Kikaboy, by the misuse of two words. It was alleged he had misused two words, meaning salary and expenses. Esmail noticed this,
and told him to put in the correct words. He had a word which he was informed, meant "salary"
but which Kikaboy would like to tell the Court meant "expenses."
The books really showed on account of this misplacement of words that Kikaboy had really had more than his salary.

Kikaboy was questioned by Mr.
Turner as to the meaning of the words, and said the wrong word

WEEK'S DEVELOPMENTS
REVIEWED.

The past week has witnessed
some startling developments in the Central China war situation.
In Kiangsi, there has been announced the secession of Chan Teou-yuen, Commanding Officer at Kulkang; the recapture of Nan-chang by the Southerners; the return of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang to Nanchang; and a suspension of hostilities in that province. In Kiangsi, there has been a concentration of troops at Shanghai and points along the Shanghai-Hang-chow Railway, as far as Sung-kiang, whilst a feverish mobilisation of troops at Chung on the west side of Tai Lake is being carried on. In Chekiang, Hsia Chiao, the Civil Governor, has declared the secession of his province from the alliance, and his troops are rapidly advancing on Kiangsu with the object of capturing the Arsenal at Lung Hun.

In the extreme southern part of Fukien the Nationalist armies are in the ascendancy, since the most important strategic point, Yung Ting, is in their possession, whilst Chao-An district is in the hands of General Chang Ching.

There is also a report that Anhui is on the point of a political eruption. The movement is said to be under the leadership of Pak Man-wai, a prominent Kuomintang
member and the first Tufu of that province at the commencement of the Revolution.

From the above, it would appear that the Nationalists at present dominate the political situation of all provinces south of the Yangtze River, with Honan, Kan-
su, Shensi, and Shansi in the balance, leaving only Chihli and Shantung under the direct control
of Chiang Tse-lin.

His Lordship gave judgment for Esmail on both writs, but in the action in which Esmail was the plaintiff, it was not found possible
to arrive at the proper amount in Court owing to the fact that rupees were concerned, and Esmail in this case was given judgment for an amount which would be later worked out by Mr. Akbar, the clerk.

The High Commissioner for New Zealand (Sir James Farr) has received in London official intimation of the alteration in the New Zealand Customs tariff, by which British motor vehicles are to receive an additional preferential tariff rate of 10 per cent. over the cars of foreign manufacture.
